I would like to tell you about the attendance of museums and galleries in England. And I am going to give some recommendations to the museum boards of directors what could be done to increase it.

We have a chart with some data for three separate years. According to it, we can find out, that an amount of visitors of British Museum, National Gallery, Tate Gallery rised up during four years. Noticeable that, a number of visitors in these three sights in 2015 is much more than in 2013, but a little less than in 2017. Unfortunately, not all museums and galleries became more visiting for these years, such as Natural History Museum and Science Museum. A number of visitors of both museums was same in 2013, it was about 3,7 mln and 3,8 mln. However, they lost visitors in following two years and increased their number in other two years. I actually got upset looking at these statistics.

Nevertheless, I have come up with some recommendations, which can increase people's attendance of museums and galleries. The first thing that should be discussed is ticket's price. Museums should make them a little bit cheaper. It would be unfair not to mention that fact that good and enthusiastic guides attract people. Consequently, museums should find them.

To conclude with, I should say that only interesting, impressive museums with good conditions to visit is very attractive. ^{Grammar}
I mean, that museums and galleries should change something to increase a number of visitors.

$$OT = 1 + 1 + 1 + 1 = 4$$

$$2OT = 2 + 2 + 2 = 6$$
