To start with, national museums and galleries are getting more popular. They draw on a lot of people, such as tourists or city citizens. Unconditionally, visiting a museum or theatre is good for knowledge and education. So what could be done to increase people's attendance?

лекс 1

According to the chart for three separate years, the amount of visits has increased but not in every museum. Natural History Museum and Science Museum have 1,9 and 1,6 mln visits respectively, even though in 2013 it was 3 mln visits in each of these museums. And there is a very substantial reason: these museums introduced admission changes in 2014. For example, British Museum had 2,6 mln visits in 2013 but in 2017 it had 5,6 mln visits.

To begin with, the first reason why people stop visiting is an admission charge. They would rather choose something cheaper. Price for attendance appeals for changes. You can make a lower price but add some souvenirs instead, so people could buy it. Also, you can do some events, such as "Day of open doors" when people can visit a museum for free. Third recommendation is promotion. People usually watch TV and surf the Net regularly. You should create an interesting advertisement for your museum.

In conclusion, attendance of museums depends on directors. These recommendations will help you to understand people.
