Visits to national museums and galleries in England.

Some people claim that museums and galleries are not that interesting to be visited, while others argue that every human being should visit a place full of science or art for once.

It seems that nowadays people are interested in art much more than in science or history. Tate Gallery's number of visitors increased from 0.9 million people up to 2.2 million.

First of all, this idea was a long time ago, but museums and galleries don't seem to fully understand the future success of their magazines. People love magazines with bright pictures and captivating vocabulary. Why don't you give it a try? You should hire an experienced editor who can provide both pictures and texts. Then mass-market will do its work.

In addition, I would recommend to pay more attention to both young scientists' and artists' works. Even if you're young and broke, you still can be quite smart to be published in a magazine. The young nation will be more motivated to see with their own eyes their role model's work when the role model's age is the same as theirs. They will respectively shake hands with the embodiment of their inspiration. This must make them rate a museum or a gallery on a high level.

In conclusion, we can solve the problem with the attendance of museums and galleries by changing things.

PKB - 0 + 1 + 0 + 2 + 1 = 4

OT - 0 + 1 + 1 + 1 = 3

90 - 1 + 1 + 2 = 4
