Attendance of museums and galleries in England.

the feeling of worry

1. The concern of attendance of museums and galleries is really important in our modern society. A lot of people are getting interested in modern Art but some of them don't understand the value st. of museums and galleries.

Looking at the data of visits to national museums and galleries I can <sup>so</sup> say that rate of attendance is interesting. First of all, I want to note that st. British Museum, National Gallery, Tate Gallery have increasing visits, but National History Museum and Science Museum are not good at attending since 2013.

st. I think the cause of decreasing of visits to National History Museum and Science Museum is that some at actual time are not keen on science and history. People who really like science and history get the information on The Internet.

So the increasing number of visits to British Museum, National Gallery and Tate Gallery is caused by tourists' attending. These places <sup>are</sup> the most popular and every traveller to England respectively wants to see the pieces of Art only <sup>there</sup>.

As a modern teenager I want to give some recommendations to the museum boards of directors. Firstly, you can create some innovations which are connected with Informational Technology because it's interesting <sup>too</sup> for young people. Secondly, you can add some new activities connected with Internet that we can do in museums.

st. Thirdly, you can show us works of new substantial creators at the galleries. Moreover, you can do sales or do free tickets for students and kids. In conclusion I wanted st. to <sup>250</sup> say that the issue of people's attendance of museums and galleries is getting more and more significant. I think that in the near future a lot of people will attend museums and galleries to improve their moods. <sup>287.</sup>
